

YEAR IN JAIL GIRL-TARRERS

Jury Finds Two Were Guilty of Tarring

AND THREE HAVE CONFESSED

With the Barber Who Lured the Girl
Away, Six Participants in the Party Have Been Brought to Justice.

Lincoln Center, Kas., Nov. 25.—The jury in the "tarring party" case in which Mary Chamberlain, a school teacher, was tarred after being lured into the country, yesterday afternoon found John Schmidt and Sherill Clark guilty. The jury had been out from 11:30 Thursday morning to 4:40 yesterday afternoon. E. G. Clark, Jay Fitzkater and Watson Seranton, who confessed to participating in the tarring, were sentenced yesterday afternoon to one year in jail. The same sentence was given Ed Ricard, a barber, who lured the school teacher to the scene of the tarring. He had already been in jail 77 days.

The three men sentenced yesterday were told they would be given ample time to arrange their affairs before commitment to jail. Constructively, the prisoners are in the sheriff's charge but are free on bonds. The men sentenced yesterday pleaded guilty before Judge Grover on November 16.

Clark is president of a Shady Bend mill company and was accused of being the leader of the "tarring party."

Fitzwater is a miller also of Shady Bend and Seranton is one of Everett Clark's employees.

LIABILITY BILL A PROBLEM.

Commission Finds Difficulty in Drawing
Up Suitable Measure.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Finding greater difficulty than had been anticipated in agreeing upon the terms of the proposed bill providing compensation to railroad employees for injuries received while in the discharge of their duties, the employers' liability and workmen's compensation commission has decided to postpone the meeting scheduled for next Monday. This decision was reached after a long conference on a tentative bill drawn by Senator Sutherland of Utah, chairman of the commission. The differences relate only to detail and grow out of the difficulty in determining the phraseology of legislation along pioneer lines. The commission will continue its work until the measure is drafted, and meetings then will be called to learn the views of those interested in the legislation to be enacted.

How She Fooled the Doctor

Three years ago my little girl, Angela, was taken sick with scarlet fever and drowsy set in; her face and limbs swelled and her chest heaved. A leading physician here at the time treated her without the slightest success. A sample of your Swamp-Root having been left at the house at the time, I resolved to try it, and as it agreed with her stomach I continued using it with grateful results. The inflammation began to subside after she had taken the first fifteen-cent bottle, and after she took two large bottles she was pronounced cured by the doctor and has been in good health ever since. The doctor came to see her every day and examined her every second day until he pronounced her kidneys in perfect condition.

Now then, the doctor was under the impression that I was giving my girl his medicine, but as his medicine had failed to do a bit of good, and desiring not to offend him, I did not tell him I was giving Swamp-Root. He did not know the difference. I did not use one drop of his medicine after I started my girl on Swamp-Root, and have always felt that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root saved my girl's life, for which I am grateful. I cannot praise it too highly.

Very truly,

IT IS SIMPLY MARVELOUS

The Good Derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Patient Gained Thirty-eight Pounds in Less than Two Months.

Business Men in Town Know
About the Case.

BARRE FORGE, Pa.—"There is no other medicine in the world that I know so much about, and am so glad to recommend, as Hood's Sarsaparilla. The good it has been to me is simply marvelous. I suppose I was one of the greatest sufferers from indigestion and liver troubles. In eight months I lost 62 pounds, and my strength ran down so that I was scarcely able to walk about the house. I was misery to myself and all about me. I looked terrible, and my friends thought I could only live a short time. Indeed, I made up my mind to this myself.

"I tried some of our best physicians here and in Huntington, but with no avail, until one of the doctors prescribed Hood's Sarsaparilla. I made up my mind to give it a fair trial. I began to take it the 1st of January, and in six days I knew it was doing me good, for I began to relish food, and from that time on the gain was more rapid. I increased in weight, gaining 38 pounds in less than two months. That tired feeling went away, and I feel almost as well as I ever did in my life. I can eat well, sleep well, and in fact feel that I am a new man.

"Neighbors have talked wonderingly about the change in my condition, and they know it was due to Hood's Sarsaparilla. Several of the business men of this town, postmaster and other neighbors and friends, who know about my case, will certify to the facts I have stated." Harrison Houpp.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than twenty different ingredients. There is no real substitute. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today in the usual liquid form, or in the chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

WILL INCREASE PEKING GUARDS AT LEGATIONS

Ministers of Foreign Powers Decide on
This Move After a Conference.

Peking, Nov. 25.—At a meeting of the ministers representing the foreign powers here, it was decided that it would be advisable to increase the legation guards.

An edict just issued orders Sheng-Yin, the new governor of the province of Shensi, to proceed to his post immediately in order to suppress the bands of outlaws and protect foreigners.

Firacy on the West river is so rampant that the British steamboat companies of Hongkong have been obliged to suspend their services. Several of their steamers have been looted and some of the officers and passengers killed. Two British torpedo boat destroyers have left Hongkong to patrol the West river.

KILLED HIS WIFE.

Fort Wayne Man Buried Her Body in Back Yard.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 25.—William Walker, 27 years old, a lineman employed by the Home Telephone company, is under arrest here on a charge of murdering his wife on Sept. 23 and burying her body in his back yard.

Walker made a complete confession Thursday night, according to the police, telling them exactly where they would find the body. Police Chief Abbott and Detective Sergeant W. F. Pappert went to the Walker home immediately, but after digging vainly for more than an hour trying to locate the body sent for Walker.

"Here she is," he said calmly, stamping on the ground. The officers went to work with shovels and in a few minutes uncovered the body.

Suspicion that Walker had killed his wife was first aroused four weeks ago when some stained clothing was found near the Walker home which was later identified as her property. She was missing, but Walker explained that she ran away from him another man.

KOMURA DEAD.

Former Japanese Foreign Minister Educated in America.

Tokio, Nov. 25.—Marquis Jutaro Komura, ex-Japanese minister of Japan, died yesterday morning of consumption.

Marquis Komura, at one time foreign minister and privy counselor to the mikado and Japanese ambassador to Great Britain, was born in 1855. He was graduated from the Imperial university and then sent to Harvard, being one of the first students educated by the government. He was appointed secretary to the foreign office in 1884, and not long afterward made director of the bureau of translation.

Later he was sent as charge d'affaires to Peking, where he remained until the beginning of the Sino-Japanese war. He was sent as Japanese minister to Washington in 1898, and in 1900 went to St. Petersburg in a like capacity. He was made foreign minister in the Katsura cabinet in 1901.

Marquis Komura was chief plenipotentiary at the conference at Portsmouth that ended the Russo-Japanese war. He was made marquis in April of this year.

GREAT DICTIONARY RUSH ENDS TONIGHT

Every Coupon Presented Will Be Honored Up to 9 P. M.—None After That.

For the last few weeks The Times has been urging its readers to take advantage of its great educational distribution of Webster's New Standard Dictionary.

We postponed the withdrawal of the offer as long as we could, but last week announcement was made that the distribution would positively close November 25. Since that announcement there has been such a rush for these books as had never before been known.

To-night will see the close of the great undertaking, and if you do not present your coupon to-day, we cannot supply you.

The Times' distributing office will remain open until midnight. There is a chance to get books if coupons are presented before 9 o'clock to-night.

Taking it altogether it has been a wonderful demonstration of The Times' "pulling" power, and an announcement will be made later of the immense number of books distributed. At the rate the books have been going for several days, it has been impossible for the overworked clerks in the distributing office to get an exact count.

There still remains one last chance for you to get The Times' dictionary. Clip the dictionary coupon on page 2 of this issue and present it, according to instructions under it, or if you cannot reach the distributing office, mail it before 9 o'clock to-night to the Barre Times. It will well be worth the 22 cents additional for postage, but all mail orders must be posted before 9 o'clock to-night.

Clip the coupon now, before you forget it.

GREAT BRITAIN FACES CRISIS

Rift Among Liberals on Foreign Policy

RUMORS OF RESIGNATION

Of the Foreign Secretary—Name of Successor Mentioned Is Bryce—Outcome of Grey's Statement Monday Eagerly Awaited.

London, Nov. 25.—The belief prevails in political circles that Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, will retire from the cabinet after his eagerly awaited exposition on foreign relations on Nov. 27 in the House of Commons, and that James Bryce, ambassador to the United States, will succeed him.

The resignation of the foreign secretary will almost certainly be handed to the prime minister should any lack of confidence be shown in his policy during the debate which will follow his statement on Monday, Sir Edward Grey, who during the earlier years of his occupancy of the foreign office had the almost unanimous support of all parties, has recently been the object of continuous attack, not by the opposition, but by members of his own party, or rather the extreme radical element in that party.

The secrecy with which diplomatic negotiations have been carried on has aroused the ire of the radicals, who latterly have received some support from the more moderate Liberals. The disclosures regarding the Anglo-German conversations with respect to Morocco and the statement that these two countries were on the verge of war, have given the radicals another opening, and now it is understood they are pressing for the retirement of Sir Edward Grey.

The secrecy with which diplomatic negotiations have been carried on has aroused the ire of the radicals, who latterly have received some support from the more moderate Liberals. The disclosures regarding the Anglo-German conversations with respect to Morocco and the statement that these two countries were on the verge of war, have given the radicals another opening, and now it is understood they are pressing for the retirement of Sir Edward Grey.

The radicals favor an Anglo-German understanding, and accuse Sir Edward of balking their efforts in this direction, either by his own design or through the influence of anti-German officials in the foreign office. Should Sir Edward resign, Viscount Haldane, secretary for war, and Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, will likely follow him.

James Bryce is the man thought most likely to be his successor, because as Mr. Bryce would be supported by the entire party as he was when the Unionists attacked him for the part he took in the negotiations on the subject of reciprocity between Canada and the United States. By a tacit understanding, the Unionist leaders support his government's foreign policy, or at least refrain from criticizing it. They, like the moderate Liberals, argue: Why turn a brilliant diplomatic victory into defeat by sacrificing the victory, in order to secure the good will of vanquished Germans?

The lobby is full of rumors of other troubles besetting the government. It is said in Unionist circles that the cabinet is not able to satisfy John Redmond's home rule demands, which have increased owing to the fear of the growing O'Brien strength in Ireland, and the Laborites are dissatisfied with the findings of the royal commission last August with respect to the railway strike. They blame the cabinet for failure to secure recognition for the unions. The prime minister, it is true, is under moral obligation to avoid a crisis during the king's absence, but it may be beyond his power to do so.

BYRNE MAKES NO COMMENT.

Has Nothing to Say on Report That Sir
Edward Grey Will Retire.

Washington, Nov. 25.—James Bryce, ambassador of Great Britain to the United States, has declined to make any statement concerning the report that Sir Edward Grey will shortly retire from the office of secretary for foreign affairs.

Ever Take The Pledge?

It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every fit of remorse that followed his debauches, and then—break it. But now it is gradually dawning on the world that pledges do not stop drunkenness. The nervous system of the habitual drinker is diseased and he must have treatment that will cure his condition. If Orinone does not benefit after a trial, your money will be refunded.

ITALY MAKES DRASTIC MOVE

Blockade of the Dardanelles is

COMMERCE IS THREATENED

Constantinople May Even Be Attacked
—The Foreign Ambassadors in Serious Conference
There.

Constantinople, Nov. 25.—Neutral commerce is seriously threatened by the proposed blockade of the Dardanelles by Italy and Turkey's consequent defensive measures. The ambassadors of the foreign powers here are conferring on the subject, as it is believed that Italian action will not be delayed much longer. It is thought that Italy may even try to force the Dardanelles and dictate her terms of peace at Constantinople.

London, Nov. 25.—The Daily Mail's Constantinople correspondent says that the Russian and Austrian ambassadors have informed the Porte that their governments have received notification of Italy's intention to blockade the Dardanelles. He says: "The expectations of an Italian blockade of the Dardanelles, which have been recently growing, received justification Thursday, when the ambassadors of Russia and Austria went to the Porte, where the cabinet was in session, and intimated that their governments had been notified by Italy that she is about to blockade the Dardanelles. Sunday is considered the probable day for the beginning of the blockade. The Russian ambassador was asked at the Porte what the attitude of his country would be in this event. He replied in a noncommittal way that it had been for some time recognized that Turkey's present condition of stalemate could not be tolerated by Italy, who will not be restrained from employing the weapons she possesses even by the possibility of objections by the powers."

ITALIAN FIRE IS DIRECTED FROM BALLOON

Heavy Guns at Tripoli Are Now Controlled From a Captive Airship.

Tripoli, Nov. 25.—A heavy artillery fire, the range and aim of which were controlled by a captive balloon, charged the Turks from the palms of Sclerasciat. During the night searchlights disclosed numerous Arabs hovering in the vicinity, with the result that there was a constant fire from the trenches.

The military aviators report the arrival of large caravans at the Turkish camp at Tagura.

The enemy's artillery firing shows that they possess a powerful new gun.

Reinforcements have been disembarked from the transports.

Herr Weiller, correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung, who left Tripoli hurriedly by the steamship Basanga, was not expelled by the government, but left as a result of the action of the war correspondents, who are endeavoring charged themselves of the calumnies charged against them. A letter was sent to Herr Weiller, through the leading correspondent, saying: "The war is serious enough without untruths."
